Location:
The Fort Peck Reservation is in northeastern Montana, 40 miles west of the North Dakota border and 50 miles south of Canada, with the Missouri River defining its southern perimeter. It includes more than two million acres of land (110 miles long and 40 miles wide). It is home to the Assiniboine and Sioux Tribal Nations, each composed of numerous bands and divisions.

Government Structure:
The duly elected governing body is the Tribal Executive Board, composed of 12 members, a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary-accountant and sergeant-at-arms. Tribal headquarters are located in Poplar.

Symposium Registration:
- https://fortpeckhealthsymposium.eventbrite.com

Air accommodations:
- Flying into/out of Billings, MT or Williston, ND
- Cape Air has 2 daily flights from Billings (BIL) to Wolf Point and 2 to Glasgow @$52 one way

Lodging:
- Wolf Point, MT (40 RT miles to Poplar)
  - Sherman Inn: 1-800-952-1100
  - Homestead Inn: 1-800-231-0986
- Glasgow, MT (140 RT miles to Poplar)
  - Cottonwood Inn & Suites: (406) 228-8213

Restaurants:
- Wolf point, MT: Wolf Point Café, Cattlemen’s, Old Town Grill

Webcast and Slide Availability:
- This event will not be webcast. We are working to obtain permission to share as many of the handouts and presentation slides as possible once the symposium is over. We will let everyone who is registered know when those, and any additional symposium materials, are available.

Tribal Information:
- Fort Peck Assiniboine and Sioux Tribes
- Fort Peck Community College

History:
- Montana Indians: Their History and Location
- Montana Governor’s Office of Indian Affairs: Fort Peck Assiniboine & Sioux Tribes
- Montana: Fort Peck Nakoda Dakota

Select Citations:
- Student Success at Tribal Colleges and Universities: Strategies that Work
- The Role of Relationship and Other Factors Associated with Condom Use Intention Among Young American Indian Men Ages 18 to 24 Years Old, Dick et al (2014)
- Learning strategies in the Fort Peck Reservation community, Bighorn, R (1997)